Reports Reveal Growing Unrest In Coal Fields

Dissatisfaction Comes After John L. Lewis Poses Strike Threat

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reports of growing restlessness came from the nation's coal fields today in the wake of a strike threat tossed at the industry by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Several thousand miners are off the job to back up demands for a pay hike being held up pending approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

While there is no indication that the walkouts will spread quickly, both coal operators and the miners are keeping a close watch on Washington for developments.

The miners' anxiety over whether the WSB will approve the pay hike negotiated for them by Lewis was heightened yesterday when the mine chieftain told his members to refuse to work after Nov. 18 unless mine operators have made their increased royalty payments to the UMW welfare fund by that date.

The contract, now up before the WSB, called for an increase in the royalty payments of from 30 to 40 cents a ton in the soft coalfields. The contract also provides a wage boost of $1.90 a day.

In winding up the UMW Convention at Cincinnati, Lewis told delegates the contract specifies that each operator certify by Nov. 18, and the 18th of each month thereafter, that he has paid the royalty covering production for the previous month. Lewis added:

"I don't want any union to go to work on the 18th unless it is found that the welfare is paid. There are no ifs, and buts about it. The morning of the 18th is the deadline."

Shorly after Lewis spoke five Southern West Virginia mines employing some 2,100 men were closed by a walkout. Closest source to the UMW said the men apparently stayed home awaiting the WSB's approval of the $1.90 pay boost.

Approximately 3,155. Kentucky miners were reported on strike. Another 1,200 were off the job at four mines of Republic Steel Corp. in Western Pennsylvania.

There were smaller groups out in Illinois and Ohio.

From Washington came reports the WSB is expected to reach a vote by the end of this week.

City Engineer Says Commission Refuses To Give Cooperation

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff's promised report to Council on the financial status of the East Cold Run reservoir will not be delivered tonight at the special meeting called for that purpose.

In a statement made public Wednesday night Mr. Barckhoff declared that he had not been invested with full authority to make the investigation and stated that without such authority it was impossible for him to comply with Council's request.

He declared that his authority had been usurped when the Water Commission ordered the city auditor to pay a contractor working on the reservoir project the money owed him by the city, after he (Barckhoff) had ordered payments on all reservoir work be stopped.

Commission Explains

A statement released by the Water Commission today, however, attributed Mr. Barckhoff's allegation that the Commission would not cooperate with him to the fact that the Commission had refused to remove B. V. BeVier from his position as water superintendent "forthwith and immediately" as, the Commission declared, Mr. Barckhoff had requested.

At a special meeting last Thursday, called for the specific purpose of acting upon the issuance of an additional $200,000 in water works revenue bonds, Council deferred action on the bonds after Mr. Barckhoff cautioned members that the city should have a "clear picture" of the project before proceeding.

Councilmen voted to delay negotiations on the bond issue until the city engineer completed a survey of the East Cold Run project and delivered his report to them.

Barckhoff's Letter

Mr. Barckhoff's statement Wednesday, which was in the form of a letter addressed to Council, Mayor Harry M. Vincent, members of the Water Commission read:

"At your meeting of Oct. 9th, 1952, you directed me to study the water project and to bring back to you at your next meeting my report as to the exact status of the project and my estimate as to how much money would be needed to complete the project and how soon this could be done.

"I immediately requested authority to be transferred to this office in order that I could make an accurate report to you. This authority was denied me by the Water Commission and I feel that without this authority it will be impossible for me to comply with your directive.

"After discussing the problem briefly with one of the contractors, this contractor apparently went back to Chester Engineers and instructed them that unless he was paid he would walk off the job. It

American Guns Cut Down Reds Storming Crest

Triangle Hill Scene Of Action; S. Koreans Also Hurl Back Foe

SEOUL (AP) — American machine gunners, crouching behind barbed wire barricades, today mowed down waves of Chinese Reds storming the crest of Triangle Hill on the Central Korean Front.

Savage fighting also swirled across the crest of rocky Pinpoint Hill, dominant peak on nearby Sniper Ridge. Twice the Reds stormed to the top and wrested control in bloody close-quarter fighting. Each time the South Koreans surged back and rewon the height.

Allied warplanes swarmed overhead and peeled off in trip-hammer blows. U. N. artillery blasted Chinese approach routes and raked towering Papa-san Mountain, the Chinese jumpoff point just to the north.

When U. S. 7th Division troops captured Triangle Hill Wednesday they ringed the crest with barbed wire. They were ready and waiting when a Chinese battalion—about 800 men—swarmed up the slopes just after dark Wednesday night.

The assaulting force was chopped to bits by machine guns.

At dawn Thursday another Red battalion charged up the slope. Again the machine guns chattered, again the Chinese faltered and broke.

The Americans consolidated their positions Thursday afternoon when they won the last Red-held knob on Triangle after a 90-minute fight.

Early Thursday morning the Reds pushed through the ROK defenses and gained momentary control of the crest of Sniper Ridge. The South Koreans rallied and stormed back to the top.

Just before dawn a Chinese battalion struck again, forcing the South Koreans back 200 yards. Again the ROKs rallied and counterattacked. They battled the Chinese hand to hand and finally drove them off at 9:30 a.m.

An Allied officer at the front said the South Koreans had restored all their positions at noon and were digging in against further expected Chinese onslaughts.

SEEKS ATOMIC TARGETS IN KOREA — Amid reports that the Joint Chiefs of Staff will ask President Truman to authorize use of atomic weapons in Korea when major targets can be found, Gen. J. Lawton Collins (left), Army chief of staff, looks through the sights of a new 85-ton atomic cannon that was demonstrated at Aberdeen, Md., proving ground. Looking on is Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, who later told newsmen the Army is preparing to fire the first live atomic shell from the huge weapon.

Gov. Stevenson Lashes Out At Eisenhower's "Crusade"

WITH STEVENSON IN CALIFORNIA (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign showed signs of catching fire today as he lashed out with fresh vigor against Dwight D. Eisenhower's "crusade."

Flushed with the enthusiasm of his biggest and noisiest campaign meeting—in San Francisco last night—the Democratic presidential nominee accused Eisenhower of attempting to ride two political horses in California.

Scoffing at what Eisenhower calls his "crusade,' Stevenson said his Republican opponent had felt it necessary to take different positions in different states. The Illinois governor declared in a speech prepared for delivery from the Capitol steps in Sacramento:

"Here in California he has tried the delicate job of being both a Warren Republican and a Nixon Republican.'

Governor Backs Warren

Stevenson repeated a virtual endorsement of Republican Gov. Earl Warren—an endorsement that won applause from a Democratic audience which bulged San Francisco's Cow Palace.

The same audience, the most responsive he has had in his travels, booed lustily when he mentioned the name of Eisenhower's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California.

Stevenson said last night that Nixon had proposed an investigation of the "extravagant charges" made against Gen. George Marshall, Eisenhower's good friend, adding:

"As for Nixon, we would take his enthusiasm for investigation and disclosure more seriously if he would do a more complete job on himself.'

This was an allusion to Nixon's explanation of an $18,000 fund raised by Californians to pay some of the senator's expenses.

Stevenson said in an address prepared for a University of California audience at Berkeley that intellectual freedom faces a threat from those who "crusade against communism in the hope thereby to smother all ideas and silence all dissent."

Nixon has contended he brought Alger Hiss to justice and has criticized Stevenson for giving Hiss a character reference.

Criticizes Ike's Aides

"My opponent in this campaign has made his peace — on their terms—with men who fear the future and hate the present,' the Democratic nominee declared "What he still calls his crusade has been joined by men who stand only for a past that is dead and cannot be disinterred.'

It was a wildly cheering reception that the estimated crowd of 23,000 gave Stevenson.

Stevenson heaped ridicule on what he said was the "team of isolationists and cut-throat reactionaries' he contended Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was quarterbacking for Eisenhower.

"From my mail, from the growth of switch clubs, I have a hunch that a lot of people, Republicans and independents, have decided

Wage Spirited Battle For Seat In Senate

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — An outspoken foe of the Truman administration and a man who once held a key job in it are waging a spirited battle for the post of United States senator from Ohio in the Nov. 4 election.

Standing for re-election is Republican John W. Bricker, three-time governor of Ohio and GOP vice presidential nominee in 1944.

Seeking to unseat him is Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, former federal price administrator.

Their campaigns provide Ohioans with a sharply etched election battle against a backdrop of national significance.

DiSalle, former mayor of Toledo, says the major campaign issue is "world responsibility versus isolationism."

Bricker pitches his bid for re-election on an attack against the New and Fair Deal programs. He says only the election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president will bring a change. And, he says the general must be given a Republican Congress with which to work.

Bricker, an ardent campaigner, blames the administration for inflation and the Korean War, demands an end to government corruption and a curb on the treaty-making powers of the President and Senate.

The junior Ohio senator, whose May 6 primary vote topped all other candidates, has been one of Ohio's best vote-getters in previous elections.

$6,608 Reported In Chest Campaign

First reports were due today in Salem's Community Chest campaign, but already $6,608.35 had been turned in.

The Chest drive for $43,700 was launched at a "kickoff" meeting of chairmen and their team workers Monday night. Actual solicitations began Tuesday morning.

The Chest workers are covering their assigned districts this week, but next week everything becomes open territory and no field will be left untouched in an effort to put the campaign over the top.

Ten local agencies will benefit from the Chest funds. The goal is the same as last year's.

U.N. To Hear U.S. Stand In World

Acheson To Give Talk; Policy Debate Begins

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson prepared today to spell out to the United Nations the U. S. stand on tense world affairs—but with his remarks on Korea reportedly watered down to generalities.

The U. N. General Assembly begins its opening policy debate today and Acheson is expected to speak either this afternoon or tomorrow, depending on the length of time required by eight other delegates to be heard before him.

Informed sources said the secretary's remarks on the Korean crisis would be of a broad, general nature rather than the tough demand for Red acceptance of a Korean armistice on U. N. terms which many delegates here had expected him to make.

Strong pressure from American Allies was said to have induced Acheson to moderate his plans for opening the Korean debate and to hold off on specific demands until Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is heard.

The Russians indicated yesterday that they were eager to get the Korean debate going before the American presidential elections—and before the British and French foreign ministers arrive. Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Gromyko demanded that the Korean question top the list of subjects to be discussed by the 60-nation Political Committee, where Acheson himself is expected to argue for the U. S.

Gromyko's demand was made in the important Steering Committee. Committee Chairman Lester B. Pearson of Canada, president of the General Assembly, replied that each committee would decide its own order of business. The Soviet delegate let it go at that.

Manufacturers Urge Speed On Water Job

The Salem Manufacturers Association, at a special meeting Wednesday, went on record urging the successful completion of Salem's water reservoir project as quickly as possible.

The manufacturers also were recorded as favoring the commission type of management for the water department.

Copies of the resolution delivered to the mayor and president of city council, read:

"The Manufacturers Association of Salem favors, first, that the water utility be administered by a commission form as presently exists;

"Second, that the city executives and city departments involved in the water improvement project make every effort to bring it to a successful completion as quickly as possible in the best interests of Salem."

Edith Pedro, 32, of East Palestine, a passenger in the car driven by Rambo, sustained abrasions of the forehead and was treated at the Salem City Hospital.

Patrolmen reported that Emma Maszgay, 55, of Alliance was struck and injured by a car driven on Lake Park Blvd., just east of Alliance, at 3:30 p.m. when she walked onto the highway in front of the approaching vehicle operated by Max Lutsch, 33, of Alliance.

The woman received contusions and abrasions of both arms and was treated at Alliance City Hospital.

Anthony Ipavec Jr., 35, of Euclid lost control of his truck on Route 45, just east of Salem, at 4:45 a.m., causing it to leave the highway and overturn.

Cars driven by Parley Chamberlain, 26, of Youngstown and Patricia Mangus, 22, of RD 5, Salem collided at 8 p.m. on Route 165, four miles east of the intersection of Routes 45 and 62.

Keep Democrats In Or Suffer Disastrous War, Truman Tells

ENROUTE WITH TRUMAN THROUGH CONNECTICUT (AP) — President Truman told New England voters today that in the November election they should either "keep this country in the right groove or you may send it into the most disastrous war in the history of the world."

That was at North Haven during a whirlwind automobile tour of Connecticut.

The President opened a two-day tour of New England at New Haven, leaving his campaign train there to go to Hartford by automobile.

About 500 persons greeted the President at the railroad station where he got into an open automobile for his trip. He is scheduled to make five whistle stop speeches before arriving at Hartford where he will talk at 12:30 p.m

At Hartford President Truman told Connecticut voters their "bread and butter" and their chance for world peace are tied up in the 1952 election.

And he renewed his onslaught on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower by saying the GOP presidential nominee has abetted Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's "scurrilous, big-lie attack" on Gen. George C. Marshall.

Truman derided the Republican slogan—'It's time for a change'—and declared, "No party is entitled to power because it lost too many elections in the past.'

"I know many a baseball fan who was rooting for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series just because the Yankees had won too many times," the President said. "It was time for a change.

"But you're not rooting at a ball game when you go to the polls Nov. 4. This isn't a ball game. And it isn't a beauty contest. This is your bread and butter. This is your chance of world peace.'

Gen. Eisenhower Heads East; Condemns "Lies" By Democrats

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower pointed his hard-driving campaign toward the Eastern Seaboard today with scarcely a pause in the rush that has carried him to the Pacific Coast and back.

He flew into New York last night from a journey that started Sept 30 and carried him through 28 states in 16 days by train, plane and automobile.

He has scheduled a grueling campaign for the days remaining before the election Nov. 4—with only Saturdays and Sundays off in the whistle stopping. He appeared to be standing the grind with surprising bounce.

With a good night's rest behind him, he will leave at noon today by automobile for Hackensack and Paterson, N. H. He will speak tonight at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here.

Will Tour New England

Friday he will speak in Wilmington, Del., and make a swing back through New Jersey, returning to New York for a weekend of rest. Monday he begins a 10-day concentrated sweep by train and plane into the New England states, New York and Pennsylvania. He is expected to concentrate his time and energy in the remaining days before election in the vote-heavy states of the East and Midwest.

Yesterday, he made his final bold bid for support in the Solid South by attempting to stir political rebellion in Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

In Ft. Worth, Dallas, Shreveport, Memphis and Knoxville, large and noisy crowds turned out to welcome him and heighten GOP hopes that Dixie isn't as solid as it has been in the past.

Raps "Plain Lies"

He said the opposition's "big guns and little guns' were telling "plain lies' in saying his election would threaten another depression, threaten the social gains that have been made, and bring an end to public power development.

In his two stops in Tennessee, he took pains to declare his election would not "impair the effective working out' of the Tennessee Valley Authority program.

In Oregon last week, the general spoke out in opposition to federal authorities as the means of developing river basin resources. He proposed instead a co-operative program in which local, state and federal officials would work out the problems together.

Praise TVA In Memphis

Speaking in Memphis, however, he praised the TVA as a "great experiment.' He said:

"TVA has served rural areas well and has created many new industries in this section. It has helped conserve natural resources control floods, and promote national defense. Certainly there would be no disposition on my part to impair the effective working out of TVA. It is a great experiment in resource development and flood control for this particular area.'

But he said TVA should not be regarded as the "rigid pattern for such development in other regions." And he added that he fa-

Iran Breaks Off British Relations

Oil Dispute Given As Reason For Action

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh today broadcast to the nation an announcement his government is "unfortunately, obliged to break diplomatic relations with Britain."

The message, originally intended for the Majlis but not read because a quorum did not attend, said the reason for the step was that "the British government has so far prevented our reaching an agreement" on the oil dispute.

Mossadegh told the people that breaking diplomatic relations would not mean breaking "the bonds of friendship" between the two nations, "because the Iranian nation always has looked with respect to the British nation, and hopes that the authorities of that government also will give more attention to the realities of the present world situation and the awakening of nations, and will forget the attitude it so far has shown, conforming its policies to the present world situation.'

Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi said notice of the Iranian decision would be delivered to the British shortly.

Mossadegh had threatened such a break if his terms for settling the bitter oil dispute were not met. Britain rejected those terms as "unreasonable and unacceptable' in a note delivered Tuesday. The British indicated they were standing pat on the joint settlement proposal made Aug. 30 by Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman.

Sparkman, Nixon Fire Party Blasts

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, says the Republican party chose Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as its presidential candidate for "an attempt at victory through masquerade.'

Opening a three-day campaign swing through vitally important Pennsylvania, Sparkman told a campaign rally Wednesday night the GOP believed "if only they could disguise the old and bankrupt Republican party behind the military toga of a five-star general they might then march straight to victory.

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Announcing himself pleased with good crowds and enthusiasm during his Michigan swing, Sen. Richard Nixon left the state today after blaming the Democratic administration for letting U. S. Reds infiltrate the United Nations.

The Republican vice presidential candidate whipped a 2,200 overflow crowd into wild cheers in the Central High School auditorium here last night.

Mossadegh's Action Hurts Oil Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials said today Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's decision to break diplomatic relations with Britain has "knocked sky high" the efforts to find a solution to the British-Iranian oil dispute.

They said the Iranian premier's decision was "most unfortunate."

American and British hopes the touchy oil issue might be worked out satisfactorily to all parties were revived two weeks ago by a series of note exchanges involving London, Tehran and Washington.

But the break in diplomatic relations worsens the whole situation by adding to the difficulties of carrying on negotiations and by arousing popular excitement and reaction in both Iran and Britain.

American authorities said popular reaction probably will make it infinitely more difficult for either government to modify its position.

State Office Seekers Speed Up Speech-Making Activities

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—State office seekers, in a flurry of political activity in the waning days before the Nov. 4 elections, hop-scotched across Ohio Wednesday to carry their campaign messages to the voters.

Most of the campaigning was spread across areas of Ohio in brief whistle-stop speeches.

Out-of-state political names of both parties also stumped the state in behalf of Ohio candidates and their respective party tickets.

In the gubernatorial race, Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche, seeking an unprecedented fourth term, defended the farm record of his administration. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, his GOP opponent, predicted a victory "by more than a small margin.'

Meanwhile, Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican seeking re-election, spoke of corruption in government, as his Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle talked about the U. S. approach to gaining world peace.

And to bolster the state and national party ticket, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, cited his party's exposure of corruption in government. Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich) told the National Apartment Owners Association at Cleveland that controls on prices, consumer credits and rents were part of the plan for the socialization of America.

Most of the GOP's state candidates joined a party caravan to tour Southern Ohio.

Included in that group were Sen. Bricker; John W. Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown; Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, candidate for state auditor; State Treaurer Roger W. Tray; Attorney General C. William O'Neill; Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart and Francis B. Douglass, candidate for the state's highest court.

Today that caravan will visit Ironton, Gallipolis, Pomeroy, Jackson, Waverly and Chillicothe. Friday and Saturday also will find the group in Southeastern Ohio.

Schedules of other candidates and speakers today call for Gov. Lausche to speak in Cleveland; DiSalle at St. Marys, Kenton and at a nine-county rally at Defiance, and Sen. Kefauver at Scio.

In Marion, Gov. Lausche cited his administration's efforts to suppress crop, poultry and livestock diseases; in enforcement against delivery of inferior quality seed, and enlargement of inspection of agricultural products, along with state animal disease control work.

In Cleveland, Taft criticized socialized medicine "supervised under a Washington stethoscope" and added:

Polls "show the Democrat governor losing three per cent of the percentage of the vote he had in 1950. This three per cent shift will be enough to defeat him.

"However," said Taft, 'I feel my victory will be by more than a small margin."

Sen. Bricker, speaking at Washington Court House and Portsmouth, said "There are many honest and patriotic Democrats who are weary of the stink arising from New Deal corruption in Washington."

He added "In this year 1952, the honest Democrats whose party has been stolen away from them are going to vote Republican."

DiSalle told audiences at Bowling Green State University and Ottawa that the "high tariff of the times contributed to the world-wide depression of the 1930's.'

Kefauver, former head of a Senate crime investigating committee, said in Dayton "All of the exposures (of corruption) made so far in Washington have been made by Democrats. We want to carry on the work and we'll have the backing of Stevenson (Gov. Adlai E. of Illinois, Democratic presidential nominee) in doing it."

At Bellaire, Kefauver said if Republican Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower were elected president, Herbert Hoover, former U. S. president, would be one of "the controlling people in the administration.'

Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, speaking in Bellaire in his drive for reelection, said in his 16 years as auditor he has saved the state more than a million dollars through "watchdog tactics.'

His opponent, Mayor Rhodes, said in a statement that Ferguson, five of his employes and nine members of their families attended a "liquor convention in Seattle in September of 1951 in a caravan of state-owned autos.

Rhodes said "there is absolutely no cause for them to remain away from their posts 30 days to attend a three-day meeting as some of them did."

In other political developments, the CIO Shipbuilders Union convention in Cleveland endorsed Stevenson for president.

Hoover Commission Savings To Government Exaggerated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ASenate committee credited the Hoover commission today with helping to improve the efficiency of the federal government but said the resultant savings proposals had been greatly exaggerated.

A report of the Senate Committee on Government Operations summarized action taken by the last two Congresses on recommendations of the Commission on Government Reorganization set up under the chairmanship of former President Herbert Hoover.

The Senate committee said the Hoover Commission made 281 specific recommendations, adding 'that an estimated 90 per cent of these 'have been fully considered and have received direct action by the Congress or its committees'—either favorable or unfavorable.

Still remaining are 28 recommendations "which will require further action by the Congress if adequate consideration is to be given to them,' the report said.

The committee report, submitted by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), took sharp exception to what it called "extravagant claims of tremendous monetary savings' 'that would be brought about by adoption of the commission's proposals for streamlining the executive branch of the government.

The committee said it had been unable to find any sound basis for some of these claims, which it said have varied "from an ultra-conservative figure of a few million to as much as 10 billions of dollars in annual savings.'

'Even if all the Hoover Commission's recommendations had been found to be of practical application, these estimates are not based on facts and are grossly unfair to the Congress," the report added.

Turning directly to the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, the Senate committee said this group had failed to offer "any support for its claim that eventual annual savings would aggregate four billion dollars."

that it is indeed time for a change —to the Democratic ticket," he said.

"They told us in July that the general had saved the nation from Taft,' he said. "But in September, the general handed over his sword to the man from whom he had just saved the nation."

'The general tells us not to worry," he said. "Government, he says, is just a matter of teamwork. But that doesn't encourage us for we know the names and have the numbers of the players on the general's team. At quarterback, Sen. Taft.'

"At right half—Sen. Jenner of Indiana. Only last week Sen. Jenner boasted again that . . . what the general has been saying . . . is 'what I have been saying throughout my six years in the United States Senate.' There is no more consistent isolationist, no more profound reactionary in the Senate than Jenner of Indiana.'

The crowd rocked the rafters as he declared:

"The general's team is not the forward-looking Republicans who fought for his nomination in Chicago. It is the Old Guard and the Old Guard never changes—except for the worse. They don't ever fade away."

Horse Racing Blocked

PAINESVILLE, O. (AP) — Lake County voters won't get a chance Nov. 4 to prohibit horse racing. The Board of Elections removed the issue from the ballot after a ruling by William O'Neill, state attorney general. The board had told objectors to the sport they needed at least 3,500 signers to a petition to get the matter voted on. They turned in 4,025 signatures but O'Neill ruled there were not enough.

Eisenhower

vored an arrangement which would make state and federal agencies "true partners" in resources development.

"Our goal,' he said, "should be to work out river basin development the way the people in the region want it done."

A short time later in Knoxville, the general angrily took notice of a page advertisement which had appeared in Knoxville and Memphis newspapers. It was a reproduction of an editorial page of the Nashville Tennessean.

This page carried a cartoon showing a hoggish figure labeled "Private Power Monopoly' with an arm around another figure, and the two were watching the dynamiting of a TVA dam labeled 'Public Power Development.'

The caption on the cartoon said: "It would be beautiful, general.'

Opposite the cartoon was an editorial titled "Look Out in the Valley!" In part, the editorial said Eisenhower's position on river basin development "was no more than an invitation to private power to 'come and get it.' '

Eisenhower denounced the advertisement as an example of "lies' that he said are being peddled against him—and he repeated that there was no truth in such charges.

He said any insinuation that he was opposed to public power was a distortion and an example of "misguided mind reading.'

Silliman Evans, publisher of the Tennessean, a Democratic morning newspaper, said in Nashville today that Eisenhower's criticism of the editorial did not remove an assumption that he would favor private power interests.

Commenting on Eisenhower's remarks, Evans said:

"A reproduction of this entire edi orial page appeared in a promotional paid advertisement in Memphis and Knoxville papers on the same day. . . .

"Of course, the general had some nice things to say about TVA's accomplishments to the people of Tennessee who are so fully aware of them. But he also said, 'We should not look upon the TVA as a rigid pattern. Our goal should be to work out river basin developments the way the people in the regions want it done.'

"What people does the general mean? If he means the people of this area who so overwhelmingly favor the TVA, why doesn't he say so?

"In the absence of such a statement, and in the face of his Western comments, it is all too clear that the people he means are those of the private power interests. . . ."

With less than three weeks to go before election, the GOP command here figured the Republicans had at least a chance in five Southern states.

Yugoslav Is Charged With Spying For Reds

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Darko Circovic, 42-year-old Yugoslav national, has pleaded guilty to charges of spying for Russia. He was arraigned in a U. S. High Commission Court yesterday and will be tried Oct. 24.

Circovic said last month he handed over to a Russian in Munich the names of 16 Allied secret agents and also told him about American troop strength in Munich and gave him the plans of two barracks.

Alaska May Have GOP Legislature

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans apparently returned their Democratic delegate to Congress, but the first day's counting of Tuesday's general election vote showed a tide toward a Republican Legislature.

Late returns from the Anchorage area last night boosted Delegate E. L. Bartlett's lead to nearly 2,400 votes — apparently decisive but whittled down sharply from his 2-1 victory margin of 1950.

In the political "weathervane" legislative races, the Republicans, who campaigned on the party's national "It's time for a change" slogan, had an edge for 26 out of 33 seats in the Legislature

Republicans were leading by varying margins for 19 of the 24 seats, for the whole territory, in the lower house. In the present Legislature, the Democrats have held a 14 to 10 edge.

Republicans were leading for seven out of nine territorial Senate seats. The incumbents were six Democrats and three Republicans.

Aneurin Bevan Invites Rightists To Join Him

LONDON (AP) — Aneurin Bevan, stormy leader of the left-wing faction that threatens to split Britain's Labor party, today invited party leader Clement Attlee and his right-wing moderates to "come and join us."

Disciples of the 54-year-old former heal h minister recently sh ok the Labor party's annual conference by grabbing six out of seven seats on the 27-member Executive Committee allotted to local Labor parties.

Attlee and his supporters had indignantly accused the Bevanites of starting a "party wi hin the party.'

Bevan hotly denied the charge and issued the "come and join us' invitation today in Tribune, weekly magazine edited by his wife, Jennie Lee.

Eisenhower Is Not Perfect

Phony criticism of Gen. Eisenhower should be taken with salt. It is coming from people who went into the 1952 presidential campaign with a mind to be coaxed away from Trumanism—at the right price.

When the price wasn't forthcoming, they began to sulk and talk about their disenchantment with Dwight Eisenhower and those awful Republicans.

They are explaining now to everybody who will listen that they must walk away from this heroic soldier who failed to be a heroic politician. They must walk to the place from whence they came—Trumanism, which now is under a new name—Stevensonism.

They declare with a gush of crocodile tears that their hearts are heavy, because Eisenhower has tried to keep peace in the Republican party by refusing to kick out Republicans who were there while he was still an obscure junior officer.

They say they are sorry because he has not turned out to be as glib as Adlai Stevenson; because he does not know his way around in politics; because his crusade for a moral awakening in America has turned into just another presidential campaigning. Therefore, they are going to be forced to go back to Trumanism, known now as Stevensonism.

This is to wish them Godspeed and remark that their disenchantment is as phony as their crocodile tears.

They complain that the Republican party is not of one mind. They never were alarmed because the New Deal coalition was—and is—of many minds.

They are pop-eyed over the way Sen. McCarthy puts the bite on suspected Communists. They are cow-eyed over the way Sen. Sparkman, with a white-supremacy background in the South, is fooling colored voters in his campaign as Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

They decry the presence of a Jenner and a Kem in Eisenhower's camp. They do not bat an eye at the presence of an Arvey, a Wyatt, a couple of Reuthers and a platoon of Kentucky colonels all tangled up like a bucket of worms in the Stevenson camp.

They gag over Sen. Nixon's unconcealed use of $18,000 to pay office expenses. But they don't bat an eye over the 5 per centers, the bestowers of mink coats and home freezers, the racketeers, vote stealers, tax thieves and influence peddlers whose hidden antics will be the goal of investigators for the next decade.

They have heckled Eisenhower until they have him half-convinced he must be wrong about his faith in a moral awakening. They pounce on every inconsistency in his speeches. But they yawn while Harry Truman fibs and fulminates his way through a whistle-stop campaign.

Eisenhower, they say, has feet of clay. He is not longer a hero. They are disenchanted. His party isn't perfect.

Therefore, they can't vote for him. They will have to vote some more for Trumanism, now known as Stevensonism.

What did Harry Truman ever do to deserve the confidence of these people who are disenchanted about Dwight Eisenhower?

Hot Potato Everywhere

In the agricultural states, there is no hotter potato in the forthcoming election than the willy-nilly drafting of farm boys for military service.

But drafting without a developed policy has become a hot potato everywhere—among farmers, urban residents and suburbanites.

There is no way to reconcile American families to the inevitability of military service for their sons when military service is the result of a policy subject to change without notice.

The thing now lacking which must be present before Americans can accept military service philosophically as an obligation of citizenship is an element of certainty.

Agriculture, industry, education and families want to know with reasonable certainty what lies ahead in the form of calls for military service. They must make plans the same as government must make plans.

They are not satisfied with statements like the one made by the deputy director of selective service earlier this month, that "well over a million men" will be drafted in 1953.

They need to know what basis will be used in their selection. Men who might be deferred want to know whether or not they can count on being deferred. Their funds and their careers are involved.

It is not too soon to start talking about some things which need to be done better when the election is over, regardless of who wins. A willy-nilly, by-guess-and-by-God draft system makes no sense in a rational society.

A writer says practically every American home has at least one uncomfortable chair. Come right in, relatives, you're welcome to it.

Of the precious metals, platinum is most important to defense becuase of its use as a catalyst, in contact points, and other applications.

A Free Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Stevenson Should Repudiate Sen. Johnson

The biggest threat to the Bill of Rights—which guarantees a free press in America—has just come from a staunch supporter of Gov. Stevenson, Sen. Olin D. Johnston, of South Carolina.

Mr. Johnston has undertaken to intimidate and threaten the press of the United States because he feels it should not print news releases issued either by Republicans or by groups which disagree with the Democratic administration.

As chairman of the powerful Senate Postoffice Committee, which holds the right to enact legislation limiting the use of the mails to newspapers and magazines, Sen. Johnston is threatening legislation designed to take away from the press its second-class postal privileges if they dare to continue to print the news as they see it.

This surprising attitude was revealed in a speech delivered before the National Association of Postmasters. The postmasters, under existing law, cannot participate in political campaigns but evidently a United States senator may plant prejudices in their minds damaging to publications carried by them in the mails.

Mr. Johnston's grievance appears to be that a news magazine last month printed an article summarizing a news release issued by the State Chambers of Commerce which pointed out that the mail service might be more efficient if handled by private enterprise. Incidentally, President Truman on his western trip got a good campaign argument out of the article, which otherwise he might never have seen. Sometimes printing the news of what the Republican groups say helps the Democrats to write their speeches.

The article plainly told the source of the suggestion and plan about the post office and included a reference to franked mail and subsidies as outlined by the State Chambers of Commerce. But Sen. Johnston seems to feel the magazine in question should have argued the case in its news columns and should have rebutted the plan by injecting an argument about subsidies for magazines. He says when he read the article he "really got mad." He went on to say that the magazine itself, which printed this news, gets an indirect subsidy in the form of second-class postage rates and that "the American taxpayers have to shell out because this magazine, which uses the mails to distribute its Republican double-talk, does not pay the department the full cost of handling and delivering."

The South Carolina senator then immediately referred to the postal deficit incurred by reason of second-class postage rates to magazines and newspapers, and added:

"I think the next Congress had better take a searching look at some of the causes of this deficit. We, in Congress, especially the Democrats, would certainly not like to be accused of allowing the taxpayers' money to be used to susidize the Republican campaign for the White House.'

The senator then mentioned various news magazines which he says, in printing various articles about the Republicans, "seek to control the White House for the next four years.'

What Mr. Johnston doesn't explain is how he is going to impose a penalty on newspapers and magazines for publishing news about the Republican activities and at the same time fail to let them use the mails for the same issues which print news designed to explain what the Democrats are doing.

In the same issue, for example, of the news magazine which Mr. Johnston criticized was printed the text of speeches by both Gov. Stevenson and Gen. Eisenhower, and in other issues of the same magazine there has always appeared news material about the Democrats as well as the Republicans. Presumably under the Johnston formula the magazines must hereafter omit Republican speeches and print only Democratic speeches if they don't want to be put out of business by the government.

The press had supposed that it was free to print what it pleased without threat of suppression or financial injury by anybody in free America. A lot has been said about Sen. McCarthy's alleged attacks on the Bill of Rights, and Gov. Stevenson has been quite vocal about the need for disavowal of such attacks by Gen. Eisenhower. It will be interesting to see if Gov. Stevenson keeps silent or repudiates the Johnston proposal which, if enacted, would destroy a free press in America.

Melancholy

By TRUMAN TWILL

If these are the melancholy days, the saddest of the year, am I supposed to sob with sorrow because the grass won't need mowing until April?

Is it supposed to break a man's heart because he can sack in until a decent hour on Sunday morning without a thousand yapping birds holding a mass meeting outside his bedroom window?

Is it really a cause for sorrow that a victim of baldness now has come to that blessed season when no one expects the crazy fool to go without a hat anyway and he can insulate his noggin with a good warm stocking-cap?

What is so all-fired sad about getting back to the season when one man's reddi-kut suit looks the same as another man's garment off the plain gas-pipe racks and the smoothies with their summer outfits in pastel shades no longer have an edge?

Should civilization be full of dark despair because all the vacations are over and no more dead-head employes are returning of a monday morning to tie up production while they tell how sick they got on unboiled water in Tehatchopeeikeepie, Wis.?

Will the national economy be anything but better for the return to honest toil of a couple million goof-off golfers who could think of more excuses to take an afternoon on than a truant in Maytime?

Is it a heartache that for the next six months a comfort-loving citizen who wants to take life easy can take life easy without nerve-wracking interruptions from touring relatives, visitors who happen to be passing by in pursuit of happiness, baseball, football and women who want flowerbeds spaded, weeded etc?

What is supposed to be so grim about hitting the sack at 9 p.m. with a good book, a basketful of goodies and not a fly or a mosquito within a thousand miles?

Why should anyone feel let down and blue about the ecstatic pleasure of being able to get toasty and warm over a nice, hot register or radiator, instead of panting with the unbearable and inescapable heat of the good old summertime, which is good only for manufacturers of bathing suits, sunburn lotion, labor-saving devices and sedative pills?

Why should anyone feel glum about closing up the madhouse of summer and getting back to the relaxing routines of the good old wintertime, when men are on their own and women are on their best behavior—with Christmas and New Year and snowdrifts up to here coming soon and January bills, February colds, March winds, April showers and May flowers following in that order?

The fellow who spieled that line about melancholy days, the saddest of the year, must have run a pop stand.

These are days of real living—these days starting now. With a little luck, everybody may get snowbound and leave the psychiatrists and ulcer specialists with nothing to do for a living next spring but mend electric blankets with short-circuits.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The emphasis on registering and voting this coming election is by way of a trial . . . We want to see if 100 percent of the voters can pick any better than 60 percent.

The best way I know to sell a fellow on the idea that he must vote is to pick out three guys he doesn't like and say, "Are you going to let them pick your next President?"

With a woman you might try the logic angle . . . "You know you're much smarter than your husband and he votes!"

But there are some statistics recently to indicate that women vote pretty much as their husbands do . . . that makes the bigamy vote very important this year.

All I know is that the election booth is one of the few places left a man can go and a woman can't go in with him to see what he's up to.

So women who vote as their husbands do may actually be voting as they think he is voting.

Dead End

Communist Theory

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A friend of mine said to me within recent days that everybody in this country knows all about Communism that everybody has taken a side, pro or con; and that there is no need to get excited about it anymore.

George E. Sokolsky

On the contrary, I am convinced that it is the crucial issue of the 1952 campaign. Because of Communism, our sons are being killed in Korea; because of Communism, we have been put into a state of permanent war with attendant huge costs and constant confusions in our economy.

Because of the infiltration of Communism into government and into our institutions of education, information and amusement, our people quarrel over issues not germane to our country.

ACTUALLY, FEW subjects are less understood and more sloganized. For instance, our people were shocked in 1945 when they discovered that Soviet Russia was not our ally but an enemy. Yet, by the Soviet blueprint, the guide to all Communist activities in every part of the world, the Russians had no alternative but to be our enemy. This should have been understood by Roosevelt at Teheran and Yalta and by Truman at Potsdam. It was not.

Let me quote from the blueprint, "Foundations of Leninism," by J. Stalin, lectures delivered in 1924 and accepted by all Communists:

"Could the Russian Communists have confined their operations within the narrow national limits of the Russian revolution? Certainly not! On the contrary, the whole situation, internal (profound revolutionary crisis) and external (war) pushed them beyond these confines in their work, to transfer their struggles to the international arena, expose the ulcers of imperialism to full view, demonstrate the inevitable collapse of capitalism, defeat social-chauvinism and social-pacifism, and finally overthrow capitalism in their own country and forge a new weapon of struggle for the proletariat, the theory and tactics of all countries the task of overthrowing capitalism.

"THE Russian Communists could not act otherwise, for this was the only path along which such changes in the international situation as would insure Russia against the restoration of bourgeois order could be expected."

There it is, the doctrine of the world revolution, of infiltration into every country, of the overthrow of capitalism. Stalin affords his followers no alternative and makes possible no compromise. He opposes opportunism but insists upon revolution.

War he regards with joy, because in war he anticipates the downfall of what he calls the capitalistic, and what we currently call the free, world. In this blueprint, Stalin compares the period between the First International (Karl Marx's) and the Third International (Stalin's revolutionary agency). The Socialists during that period were mild men, like the Fabians in England or the Eugene V. Debs Socialists in America. Stalin says of this intermediate period:

"IT WAS a period of relatively peaceful capitalist development, a pre - war period, so to speak, when economic strikes and trade unions developed more of less 'normally,' when in the electoral struggles and parliamentary fractions 'dizzy' successes were achieved, when the legal forms of struggle were exalted to the skies, and when it was hoped to 'kill' capitalism by legal means . . . "

Stalin insists that all Communists must oppose their own country in order more ably to support the revolutionary cause throughout the world. For loyalty, patriotism, according to Stalin, only results in the revolutionists exterminating "each other for the greater glory of the capitalist fatherland.'

Americans ask, how is it possible for an intelligent man to twist and turn with every change of the Communist party line? The answer is that there is a main line—the world revolution, the achievement of the proletarian dictatorship—and there are secondary lines to which they must adapt themselves from time to time and in each different place.

Stalin gives as the first major line of the revolution:

'An intensification of the revolutionary crisis in the capitalist countries and the growth of the elements of an explosion on the internal, proletarian front in the 'mother countries.' "

Because of this, which is laid down as basic dogma, every Communist must work against his own country all the time in order to bring on the "explosion" which will destroy its traditional society and bring on the revolution. There must be strikes, sabotage, disorder, struggles.

Self-attained Discipline

By HARRISON W. FRY

Is there discipline in our schools today?

It is the question that educators most frequently answer in response to those who lay all the shortcomings of youth on the doorstep of the schools.

The persuasion of psychology has been substituted very largely for the principal's paddle, the educators point out.

Self-discipline is the new concept of discipline that the schools are seeking to develop.

And good discipline-self-discipline-is explained in a brochure that the suburban school study council has just issued in cooperation with the education service bureau of the University of Pennsylvania.

Good discipline, the study points out, begins with a good adjustment to school. "Life is a series of adjustments: Individuals need to learn to meet new situations easily." The modern school seeks to attain this adjustment through a knowledgs of the complete pupil through conferences with parents and former teachers, records and adjusting the studies to the individual needs.

The development of self-reliance is another step in building good discipline. "The pupil must be given an opportunity to think and act for himself, free from overdirection or interference by adults."

Consideration for others: This is one of the big lessons in self-discipline that the modernly motivated school tries to teach. Pupils learn consideration for others through assuming responsibility for good housekeeping in the classroom and cafeteria. The student committees set up rules and regulations for fellow students and seek to carry out school community projects.

Boys and girls working together: Another important lesson in good discipline means practicing proper manners in school and out.

Respect for authority: There is no discipline without this quality in the individual. It is one of the most important lessons, because the workaday world outside the classroom insists on this so that its delicately adjusted machinery of organization may function efficiently as a unit.

Cooperation with the community: This is a wider social self-discipline in keeping with the disciplines that the community requires of the adult. Responsibility for work in the churches, hospitals, Scout troops and the like provides a laboratory for school youngsters today.

The cooperation of home and school: The council pleads for this teamwork. It points out that when the home gives the child love and affection with a sense of belonging and the school assists by giving him confidence in the world and himself, he will accept these many experiences and grow to be a self-disciplined individual.

Georgi Zarubin Is In It

No one has asked me to run the State Department recently. But there's no law against volunteering.

It is a fancy of mine, and no passing fancy either, that it would be nice to see Uncle Sam apply the bounce to every ounce of Georgi N. Zarubin, hefty new Russian ambassador to the United States.

My dream of applying a permanent boot to Zarubin is not rooted in retaliation for the bounce the Russians have just applied to our ambassador, George F. Kennan. It is rooted, instead, in something far more urgent; self-preservation, the first law of nature.

IF THIS NATION hopes to have any secrets left, Zarubin should be presented with his hat and shown the door on the double. It was while Zarubin was Russian ambassador to Canada that Soviet espionage agents after atom secrets stole the Canadian government blind.

And it was while Zarubin was Soviet ambassador to Great Britain that the greatest traitor and most colossal thief of all time, Klaus Fuchs, handed over to Russian agents the results of advance nuclear research and, in all probability, the receipt for the hydrogen bomb.

This may be mere coincidence—that Zarubin was ambassador to Canada and then to Great Britain—during operations atomic grand larceny. But how far can the long arm stretch? Or American credulity, for that matter.

"ZARUBIN, WHILE less well known in diplomatic circles, is regarded as a member of the aggressive younger group in the Soviet foreign service," it was written of the new Russian ambassador about the time he was appointed to the Canadian post, where he served in 1944-45.

Truer word was never spoken than that "aggressive." But of course, it is probably pure coincidence that after he had finished his tour in Canada and been in England less than two years, the U.S.S.R. was able to set off its own atomic explosion.

Fuchs operated as chief spy and Russian informant in the United States during Zarubin's residence in the Russian Embassy at Ottawa. And again, it must be coincidence that Fuchs name was found in one of the treacherous notebooks used as an exhibit in the Canadian spy ring case.

OBVIOUSLY IT IS only happen-stance that Fuchs, who operated in the United States from 1943 to 1946 and then, happily for the U.S.S.R., returned to England's atomic laboratories about the time Zarubin arrived in Great Britain as Russia's envoy plenipotentiary.

Only a handful of British and American authorities and atomic specialists know to this day what Fuchs gave the Russians in the way of atom and hydrogen secrets.

But the larceny was so terrible and wholesale that the late Sen. Brien McMahon, chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, could only repeat "it is shocking, shocking, shocking—"

ALL RIGHT, I'm willing to be big about this matter. So England, Canada and the United States were stolen blind while Zarubin was in the room but looking the other way! I'm willing to give the guy the benefit of the doubt.

It's just that I think he's a Jonah, a jinx and a bird of ill omen. Vultures have their place in nature's scheme, but they make me nervous sitting around the house with a beady eye on the owners.

What really beats me is why Uncle Sam ever accepted Zarubin in the first place, knowing the record.

Okay; so I accept the thesis that Zarubin is a right guy. All I claim is, he's in the wrong pew.

Revenue Bureau Half Reorganized

5 New Tax Districts Set Up In 13 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Internal Revenue has itself about half reorganized.

Five new revenue districts have been set up since last May and are now operating in 13 states. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has announced dates in the next 10 days when three more districts, with 12 more states, will be put into operation.

Additionally, it was learned today that announcements are soon to come on two more districts, to contain at least four states. It was also learned that changes are probable in the already-operating New York City and Chicago districts.

That makes 25 states functioning or soon to be functioning under the plan accepted last spring by Congress to take the scandal-buffeted tax bureau out of politics and break down its heavily centralized structure.

It brings all of the Northeast and most of the Atlantic Coast and Great Lakes region under reorganization. Yet to be reorganized are the West and most of the Midwest.

The revenue bureau has promised to complete the reorganization by Dec. 1.

An informed source said today the next new tax districts to be announced will have headquarters at Philadelphia and Seattle. Philadelphia will supervise federal tax matters in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, the source said. It was not known whether Seattle will take in more than the state of Washington.

Here is the revamped federal tax collection service now halfformed:

1. The presidential plan accepted by Congress provided for dividing the nation into as many as 25 tax districts, each headed by a commissioner. The revenue bureau, according to the best information available, has decided on 16 districts.

The district commissioner will have broad decision-making powers in his area. Theoretically at least, few administrative decisions will be left to Washington and national headquarters will devote itself to overseeing and policy-making.

The district commissioner, chosen under civil service as a career man, will be the highest-ranking field officer of the bureau.

2. The 64 directors will deal with their district commissioners instead of with Washington. Whereas the collectors were appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, directors will be civil service employes. Under the old system, internal revenue agents, special agents, alcohol and tobacco tax investigators and inspectors usually were independent of the collector, often reporting direct to Washington. They will now all come under the directors' supervision.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D

Danger of Food Poisoning Is Serious

Botulism is a kind of food poisoning. It results from swallowing a toxin or poison produced by the growth of germs in canned foods which have not been heated enough.

Dr. Jordan

The greatest danger from this serious condition comes from home canning, because there have been no outbreaks of botulism reparted from commercially canned goods packed in the United States since 1925.

About 10 or 15 outbreaks of botulism are reported each year. Home canned string beans, asparagus, corn and spinach have been most commonly incriminated.

Perhaps the reason for this is that these foods are acid and the growth of the dangerous germ in acid foods does not cause the foul odor which causes other contaminated foods to be thrown away uneaten.

The symptoms generally develop in from 12 to 36 hours after eating poisoned food. Nau ea and vomiting are common and are usually followed by symptoms involving the nervous system. Double vision and other disturbances of sight frequently occur. Difficulty in swallowing is a common complaint.

Death unfortunately is frequent and is most common in from three to six days. Whether this will occur or not depends principally on the amount of this extremely poisonous substance that is swallowed.

The treatment of this fortunately rather rare condition is not very good. There is an antitoxin, but this treatment is not of value after the symptoms have appeared and too often a diagnosis is not made until the symptoms are well advanced.

Nevertheless, it is the only direct treatment now available, except for those measures which are aimed at supporting the patients's strength.

The germ causing botulism is found in many places and is likely to be on vegetables commonly used for home canning. The germ itself is harmless but the poison it produces when grown in a sealed can is what is dangerous.

Furthermore, the disease germ is rather resistant to heat. For this reason high temperatures for long periods should be used in the canning of all foods.

Such methods of canning with high temperatures and under pressure for sufficiently long periods have been used more and more frequently with the result that fewer outbreaks of botulism are occurring than in the past. Also, thorough heating after opening the can destroys the toxin.

Since treatment is unsatisfactory and the death rae of those afflicted is high, it is extremely important to use every precaution to avoid the danger of contamination of canned goods.

This limbering exercise will roll excess poundage off your upper thighs, subdue your stomach bulges and take lumps off your hips (above left). Before you step into the bath, make a mist mask for your face. Just wet your special cake of English soap and run it over your face in a rolling motion (upper right.

Keep the mist mask on while you relax in the tub. When you are ready to remove the mask, give yourself hot, then cold, then hot, then cold repeated rinsings to wash away the last bubble. While you are soaking in the tub, let your body and mind completely relax. Turn the phonograph on. The kinks of the day will slide away while your skin is being smoothed as well as cleaned to a shine by the foamy suds (center).

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Taft Campaigns In Utah For Ike

Tries To Unite Men Who Have Backed Him

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio stumped Utah Wednesday in an effort to unite his preconvention supporters behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee.

He delivered blistering attacks upon administration foreign policy, "corruption in government" and defended the Taft-Hartley Labor Law as an act to "keep the government from interfering in collective bargaining."

Taft was welcomed warmly by good-sized crowds in Ogden, on the campus of Utah State College at Logan and in Salt Lake City. Many of those who supported him in his unsuccessful bid for the GOP nomination wore bright red "Taft" buttons.

He told an audience at Ogden that to hear President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, tell it "you'd think the world began 20 years ago.'

"They try to give the impression,' he said "there wasn't a good sized privy on a farm in the United States before 1932.'

Taft said the Taft-Hartley Law is based on "free collective bargaining." And the worker in this country has raised his standard of living because of free collective bargaining, the senator said, "not because of the Democratic party.'

In his Salt Lake City speech, Taft hammered at "corruption in government' and documented scandals from the WPA in the 1930s to recent investigations of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

He accused President Truman of telling a "big lie" when he said in a campaign speech that he has cleaned up corruption wherever he found it.

The Ohio senator placed the blame for the Korean War on Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a weak foreign policy.

He said the State Department called the Chinese Communists "agrarian reformers' and wrote China off with a shrug. Formosa would be lost, too, he said, "if Acheson had his way about it.'

Kidnapping Charge Faces U. S. Soldier

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Formal charges of unlawful confinement of an individual, desertion and several counts of larceny have been brought against Pvt. Eugene Walters, 28, of Harrods (Allen County), O., as the suspected abductor of an 18-year-old American school girl here last February.

U. S. military authorities said Wednesday Walters is charged with the abduction of Mamie Ruth Shelton, adopted daughter of M-Sgt. F. B. Burns of Hot Springs, Va. Date of his trial was not revealed.

She was abducted at pistol point the night of Feb. 3 near Hanau by a man in American uniform who stopped the car she was in and forced out her two soldier companions.

She said the gunman drove her to a lonely road, where he forced her to undress but did not molest her. She said the gunman then left her.

Authorities said Walters surrendered after being absent without leave. They said last Friday he made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide in his cell at the Frankfurt stockade.

Authorities added Walters denied implication in the abduction.

Jury Will Decide Restaurant Shooting

LISBON — Whether Teddy Fluharty, 38, of East Liverpool, shot in self defense or was shooting with intent to wound another East Liverpool man last May will be decided by a jury of five men and seven women this afternoon.

Fluharty, indicted by the Grand Jury for the affray at the Diamond Restuarant in which Elmer Hashman was wounded, went on trial Wednesday.

The state claims Fluharty shot Hashman, a former city incinerator employe, during an argument in the restaurant.

Fluharty claims he shot in self defense.

The jury:

L. Daniel Richards, East Liverpool; James Rhodes, George Dressel, Lyman Goodballett and Edith Gow, Salem; Jennie Blattman, Florence Holt, Dorothy Peppel and Helen Spatholt, Leetonia; Lena Saffell, New Garden; Clem Laughlin, Lisbon, and Effie Irons, Columbiana.

Camille Dillon of Columbiana is the alternate.

ENDS U. N. PROBE

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Senate internal security subcommittee yesterday concluded its three-day probe of United Nations employes concerning the possibility of Communist ties.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Herbert O'Conor (D-Md), indicated it would continue its investigation with more hearings here within the next two weeks.

give me health and a day

"GIVE ME HEALTH and a day and I will make the pomp of emperors ridiculous" was Ralph Waldo Emerson's terse but eloquent opinion of the value of health. The vibrant, glowing health of which he speaks is seldom an accident of birth. Its price is constant vigilance, with proper regard for rest, fresh air, exercise, and diet.

At the first sign of illness see your family physician. He is your skillful and never-failing ally in the preservation of health. If, in his judgment, medication is needed, bring your prescription to us.

EXTREMES—Tennessee went to extremes selecting talent. Senior Doug Atkins is a six-foot six, 220-pound defensive right tackle. Freshman Bobby Brengle is a five-foot five, 150-pound safety man.

Bengals To Hold Weight Edge; Hrovatic May Be Out Of Action

The Wellsville Bengals, sporting a 3-2 record for the season, will provide the opposition for the Salem Quakers Friday night at 7:45 at Reilly Stadium when the two schools engage in their 42nd meeting in an ancient series of football battles.

The Bengals, under the guidance of one Chuck Sell, will take on the Quakers with a definite weight advantage, both in the backfield and on the line.

Aided with the weight of Tackle Stacey Young, a 245-pound junior, the Wellsville line will outweigh the Quakers 16 pounds per man. Young, a beefy lad, is probably the standout of the Bengal line, both defensively and offensively, and has been named the man to watch.

The backfield, led by Halfback Dan Carney, is speedy and will hold the weight edge on the Quakers, especially if Quarterback Joe Hrovatic is not with the starting eleven.

The Bengal backs average at 160 pounds and the Salem runners will average just over 130 pounds, with Ray Hertel, a 123-pound sophomore calling the signals for Coach Ben Barrett's charges. Should Hrovatic, who has not worked out this week, be playing the quarterback position the locals will hold a three-pound edge over the Bengals.

However, the weights of the teams are somewhat even with Young and Hertel not being considered thd the two teams should stage a real battle.

THE BIG FACT of the evening will be whether the Quakers can keep Coach Barrett's unmarred record of nine straight victories over the Bengals clean or whether the Wellsville eleven will be able to triumph for the first time since Barrett took the Salem reins back in 1943.

A Salem victory will give the locals and Barrett their tenth win over Bengal outfits but a loss will place the Wellsville combine back in the winning column in one of the oldest series in Columbiana County.

Working with the huge Young at the tackle positions will be Bob Grimm, a senior. A 165-pounder, Grimm is a letterman as is Young and the pair are reportedly a rough twosome.

The guard positions will be filled by a brother combination in Marlin and Frank Carter. The brothers are both lettermen and each weighs in at 160 pounds. Marlin is a junior gridder while Frank is a senior.

The center spot will find Jesse McKenzie, a 165-pound junior. McKenzie is a letterman as will be the two starting ends. Coach Sell was unsure who would be the left end, Wes Heiney or John Trainer. Heiney goes at 180 pounds while Trainer scales at 155 pounds. Both lads are seniors.

Bob Foster will be the only sure end, playing the right side. A junior, the 170-pound Foster does all the kicking for the squad, kickoffs, punts and extra point conversions. He has played regularly with the Bengals for the past two years and is a constant threat both as a pass receiver and on defense.

Carney is Wellsville's outstanding offensive threat, the 170-pounder running from the left halfback spot on Coach Sell's "Split T." The junior gridder works with another junior, Chester Thorton, who runs from the right halfback position. The two boys are both non-lettermen.

Operating from the quarterback slot will be Bill Peters, a senior weighing 150 pounds. Another senior, Bob Briggs, holds the fullback position with his 160 pounds. He is a senior. Peters is a letterman but Briggs is not.

Other players who will see action, especially on defense, are Austin Chrislip, junior tackle, 200 pounds; Vince DeFlippo, junior tackle, 220 pounds; Bill Pullie, senior back, 150 pounds and Norm Grimm brother of the starting tackle, a sophomore guard, 165 pounds.

COACH BARRETT will meet the Wellsville eleven with nearly the same lineup he used for the first half of the season.

Jack Ference and John Baker will open at the ends, Jim Hrovatic and Jon Zeigler at tackles, Don McCormick and Wayne Ickes at guards and Ed Mozina at center.

Nelson Mellinger and Bill Crookston will operate at the two halfback posts with Bob Sebo at fullback. Quarterbacking will probably find Ray Hertel in the starting role with the injured Hrovatic likely to see action. Jerry Martin and Jack Gottschling may also work at the position.

Defensively, Bill Megert, Tom Sweteye, Bob Domencetti, Charlie Harris, Gary Paxson, Harold Garlock and others will see action.

Coach Barrett believes his charges will be able to overcome the Bengal eleven despite the loss of Hrovatic, leader of the team. Barrett worked his gridders on defense in the Wednesday scrimmage and believes his team will show up better in that department than they did last week against Youngstown South.

Claassen Picks Michigan State

Maryland, Oklahoma Also Named Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time there was a little girl who always wore a red dress, coat and hat. She was known as Little Red Riding Hood. One Saturday afternoon she went into the woods to visit her grandmother—and missed all the football scores.

But she missed nothing. She had read these predictions and knew how all the games would come out. (Last week's record 44 correct, 12 incorrect for .786. The .786 also is the season's average.)

Michigan State over Syracuse: The Spartans, no matter which of his three teams Coach Biggie Munn plays, have been voted the nation's best. Syracuse, possibly the East's best, should make it interesting.

Maryland over Navy: Two unbeaten neighbors, and you know there is no brawl like a neighborhood brawl.

Oklahoma over Kansas: Primarily from habit. The Big Seven title rides on this one.

California over Santa Clara: California's great back is Johnny Olszewski, nicknamed Johnny O. After this game they will chant it "Oh Johnny!"

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Those Georgia Engineers are out to build a perfect season.

Duke over North Carolina State: Hardly more than a workout.

UCLA over Stanford: UCLA defense, with Donn Moomaw as the big man, has yielded only two touchdowns in the first four games.

Purdue over Notre Dame: Mr. Dale Samuels to fill the air with footballs.

Southern California over Oregon State: The Trojans appear to have power enough to slay the jinx which so often hampers California teams in the Northwest.

Pittsburgh over Army: Two surprise winners of last Saturday collide. The Cadets not deep enough to corral the Panthers.

Texas over Arkansas: The Longhorns to pull themselves together after the Oklahoma debacle.

Yale over Cornell: This is the TV game of the week and the Yale sophomores will take full advantage of it.

The others:

East: Holy Cross over Brown, Colgate over Harvard, Coast Guard over Amherst, Princeton over Lafayette, Penn State over Nebraska, Penn over Columbia, Quantico Marines over Fordham, Dartmouth over Rutgers, Trinity over Colby, Williams over Bowdoin, Rochester over Vermont, Boston University over William & Mary.

Midwest: Marquette over Arizona, Colorado over Iowa State, Detroit over Drake, Illinois over Minnesota, Michigan over Northwestern, Missouri over Oklahoma A & M, Wichita over Miami of Ohio, Indiana over Temple, Ohio State over Washington State, Wisconsin over Iowa, Tulsa over Kansas State.

South: Tennessee over Alabama, Florida over Vanderbilt, LSU over Georgia, George Washington over Virginia Tech, Mississippi State over Kentucky, Tulane over Mississippi, Virginia over Virginia Military, West Virginia over Washington & Lee, Wake Forest over North Carolina.

Southwest: Baylor over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over Rice, Texas Christian over Texas A & M.

Far West: Colorado A & M over Montana, Wyoming over New Mexico, Idaho over North Dakota State, Washington over Oregon, Utah over Denver.

GRAY GHOST — Native Dancer will be tried for distance for the first time in the mile-and-a-sixteenth of Jamaica's Eastview Stakes, Oct. 22.

Defense Seems Key For Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Defense seems to be the style in college football this year. Last week Ohio State upset Wisconsin and Penn snapped Princeton's 24-game winning streak mainly as a result of their defensive efforts.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's statistics released today show the big reason Southern California still is among the unbeaten of the country is its ability to stall opposition drives.

Coach Jesse Hill's Trojans have been all but stalled on the offense, but with two such smoothies as Vic Sears and Jim Psaltis leading the defensive array, they've maintained an unblemished record in four games.

Sears is the major-college punt-return leader with 335 yards in 16 returns, while Psaltis ranks second in pass interceptions behind Milt Davis, UCLA junior, with five grabs for 105 yards.

Joe McClaran of Drake is No. 1 in pass receiving with 24, but Ed Woodsum of Yale has taken five throws for touchdowns to lead in that department.

Sam Baker of Oregon State heads the punting with an average of 45.7 yards per kick.

Buckeye Gridder Suffers Broken Arm

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State University termed the broken arm suffered Wednesday by Jim Hietikko offensive tackle, "a terrific loss to the team and a tough break for the boy."

Hietikko, 6-3, 221-pound senior from Conneaut, received two broken bones in his right forearm when a player fell on him during practice. Physicians said he would be out for the rest of the season.

Hayes said Don Swartz of Newark would take over Hietikko's spot in Saturday's game against Washington State.

Hayes said he thought Hietikko had all the makings of an All-America candidate, and added:

"According to our rating system, Hietikko received an outstanding 92 per cent on pass protection and 85 per cent on running plays. That's exceptionally good."

In Pullman, Wash., home of Washington State University, 57 men were named to the Cougars' traveling squad to make the Columbus trip.

Niles Captures Triangular Cross Country Meet Here

Niles, in its initial year of cross country competition, captured a triangular meet with Warren and Salem Wednesday afternoon on the Salem course at the Salem Golf Club.

The McKinley Red Dragons came through with a total of 35 points, barely edging out the Panthers of Warren who finished with 36 markers. Salem placed last in the triangular affair with 56 points.

Niles boasted the first place runner in the event in Bill Wick. The Red Dragon posted a time of 12:10.2 over the hilly course, finishing ahead of Bill Lipp who recorded a 12:11 time. Lipp led the entire course only to lose in the final 25 yards when Wick closed the gap and went around him.

Warren's Art Cofield finished ten seconds behind Lipp with a time of 12:21. Niles' John Pnishack was fourth; Bob Hanna of Warren, 5th; Joe Richella, Niles, 6th; Tulio Belmaggio, Warren, 7th; Tom Johnston, Salem, 8th; Gerald Walton, Warren, 9th; and Eddie Votaw, Salem 10th.

Johnston finished less than a minute behind the winner but was able to get eighth position. Conrad Thorne of Salem ended the two-mile course in 16th place and Dave Wiggers came in 20th for the Quakers.

The Salem runners will trek to Leavittsburg Monday to meet Leavittsburg in a return match. The district meet will be held Saturday, Oct. 25, at the Municipal Golf Course in Akron and the state finals in Columbus will be staged the following Saturday, Nov. 1.

Coach Ken Jacobs will take at least seven men to the district meet and those who perform well will be eligible for the state meet.

Sisler Can't Sign Own Three Sons

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A baseball scout has plenty of trouble but how would you like to be a scout who can't sign up a member of his own family?

George Sisler Sr., one of baseball's all-time greats, and chief scout for the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates, took the situation in stride today. He has three sons connected with major league clubs and not one of them connected with the Bucs.

The latest Sisler to toss his hat into the big time is David Sisler, 21-year-old right hand pitcher who is a student at Princeton. David has cast his lot with the Boston Red Sox for a bonus reportedly between $35,000 and $40,000. He's signed to a Louisville American Association farm club contract.

Sisler's other sons are in the National League. George Jr., is assistant to President Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and Dick Sisler is with the Cincinnati Reds.

Jimmy Carter Regains Lightweight Championship

Hangs Decision On Lauro Salas

Wins Back Crown He Lost In May

CHICAGO (AP)—Gritty Lauro Salas, who left a job as signalman on the Mexican National Railway to take up boxing, left a switch open last night and Jimmy Carter expressed through to retain the world's lightweight championship.

The 24-year-old youth from Monterrey and Los Angeles showed an instinctive gameness in standing up to Carter's sharp shots. But that was about all.

The peppery little New York Negro, displaying a terrific left hook as his main weapon, made it look as easy as taking candy from a baby.

After 15 rounds, blood flowed from vicious gashes on both of Salas' eyebrows, a split lower lip and a battered nose.

His five-month reign as his country's only undisputed champion in ring history ended as abruptly as it began last May, when he lifted Carter's crown in Los Angeles.

The nationally televised and broadcast scrap at Chicago Stadium attracted only 5,283 fans at ringside, one of the smallest championship crowds on record. Carter and Salas each received $6,428 as a share in a net gate of $21,429. But each also picked up nearly $10,000 from television receipts.

Carter's decision was overwhelming as he became the first lightweight to recapture the title since Lou Ambers did it against Henry Armstrong in 1939.

The official point-scoring showed Referee Frank Gilmer favoring Carter, 81-69, Judge James McManus, 82-68, and Judge Frank McAdams Jr., 84-66.

They awarded Salas the 11th and 12th rounds when the little Mexican rallied furiously and desperately to force Carter into the ropes several times.

But Carter was never hurt and not even severely jolted.

The best that could be said of Salas was his ability to weather Carter's smashes and keep a record intact of never having been knocked off his feet.

Stengel Chosen By AP Writers As 'Manager Of The Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Dillon Stengel has been honored for the miracle everybody figured he would pull off but weren't quite sure about by being named Manager of the Year for the second time.

The "Old Perfesser" was named on 37 of the 72 ballots cast by baseball writers in the Associated Press poll. The honor climaxed a season for the 61-year-old Glendale, Calif., seer in which he won his fourth straight pennant and world championship, tying a record held only by Joe McCarthy, another Yankee manager.

The runnerup position went to Eddie Stanky in his first year as a major league pilot. Eddie brought a fair to middlin' St. Louis Cardinal squad home third in the National League race.

As it was, Stanky just nosed out Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics, who surprised by parlaying Bobby Shantz and Ferris Fain into a fourth-place finish for his team. It was only the second time in 19 years that an American League Philadelphia entry has finished in the first division.

Another scrappy American League manager, Bucky Harris of Washington, received enough consideration to be tied for fifth place with Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn, who did commendably with a lukewarm pitching staff. Harris steered his team into fifth place after they had almost a unanimous choice for the cellar in preseason pickings.

The Giants' Leo Durocher, Manager of the Year in 1951, received five votes and fourth place for almost as good a job this year.

Indians Sell Montalvo, Combs; Get Farmhands

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today sold shortstop Merrill Combs and catcher Joe Montalvo to their farm club at Indianapolis and bought four other players.

Purchased were pitchers Dave Hoskins and Jose Santiago and catcher Dick Aylward, from the Tribe's club at Dallas, and Al Smith, a third baseman and outfielder for Indianapolis.

Combs filled in for Ray Boone with the Indians this season.

May Revive Far West Class D Baseball League

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Possibility of reviving the Far West Class D League was being explored today by representatives of five major league baseball clubs.

The majors are interested in reinstituting a Class D circuit in the West so as to have a place to send young, developing players. Reno and Las Vegas, Nev., interests are here to talk over the situation with representatives of Chicago and Cleveland of the American League, and Boston, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh of the National.

Wisconsin Leads Offense, Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin, battling to make up ground in the Big Ten title race after losing to Ohio State, leads the conference on both offense and defense.

The Badgers have averaged 392 yards by air and on the ground in their two league games and have yielded only 262 to opponents. Ohio State is second in the statistical column with an average of 380 on attack and a yield of 309 on defense.

Wisconsin's edge in both departments comes mainly from its victory over Illinois when the Badgers gained 434 and gave up only 127.

Individual honors are held by two Indiana backs. Fullback Pat Gedman tops the Big Ten in yards gained rushing with a net of 307 in three games and quarterback Lou D'Achille is ahead in total offense with 399.

Ohio State's John Borton heads the passers with a completion average of .600 and a gain of 359.

Following Gedman in rushing average are two other fullbacks, John Hlay of Ohio State with 262 and Purdue's Max Schmaling with 227. Ohio State's speedy mid-term freshman, Howard "Hopalong" Cassady, has the best average gain per play with 7.45.

BARONS OPEN SEASON

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Barons open their American Hockey League season in Pittsburgh Friday and return here for a home opener Saturday night with the St. Louis Flyers.

Stan Musial, Larry Doby Claim Major League Slugging Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards and Cleveland's Larry Doby are wearing the 1952 major league slugging crowns today.

Final figures calculated by The Associated Press reveal Musial accumulated 311 total bases in 578 at bats to pace the National League sluggers with a .538 average. Doby, producing 281 total bases in 519 trips to the plate, topped the American League with a .541 slugging percentage.

Musial's collection of 194 hits included 42 doubles, six triples and 21 home runs. Doby connected for 26 doubles, eight triples and 32 homers among his total of 143 safeties.

Both leaders finished second in last season's slugging derby. Musial posted a .614 mark in 1951 and trailed Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, who hit at a .627 clip. Doby, flailing away at .512 pace, was runnerup to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. Williams, who was recalled to active duty in the Marines in early season recorded a .556 slugging figure.

For Musial, who owns the highest lifetime slugging percentage in National League history, .579, this was his fifth slugging championship. The slender outfielder-first baseman captured the title in 1943, 1946, 1948 and 1950.

The 31-year-old prolific-swinger also won his sixth batting crown with a .336 average and led in total bases for the fourth time in his career.

Doby, a 27-year-old flychaser, was hampered slightly at the outset by a leg ailment, but he gained momentum as the season progressed. The powerful Tribesman found the range to take the home run title and tie for the runnerup spot in the runs batted in department.

Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs finished right behind Musial for National League slugging supremacy with a mark of .529.

Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski ranked third in the slugging parade with .510, followed by Kiner and Gil Hodges of the Dodgers, both tied for fourth at .500.

Young Mickey Mantle of the Yankees gained runnerup honors in the American League slugging standings with a .528 percentage.

Al Rosen of the Indians was third with .522, trailed by teammate Luke Easter in fourth at .513.

Illini's O'Connor Is 'Back Of Week'

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy O'Connell, a 22-year-old junior who sprays the air with footballs for the University of Illinois, today was voted the back of the week in The Associated Press' poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

O'Connell has been the main offensive weapon of the Rose Bowl champions all season, but he really let go last Saturday against startled Washington when he tossed five touchdown passes within 20 minutes.

That gave him a total of 520 yards gained through the aid on 32 completions in 54 tries and an average of .592. His aerials have gained almost twice as much yardage as the entire Illinois offensive has been able to muster on the ground.

Close behind 'Connell for the week's honors was Dick Shinaut of Texas Western, the nation's offensive leader, who tossed two scoring passes and set up a third in his team's 20-14 upset over Texas Tech Saturday night.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State, the main thorn in the side of Wisconsin in the Buckeyes' 23-14 reversal of the Badgers, also was considered. He scored one touchdown and had a couple of long runs against the Badgers.

Brewster To Replace Injured Lavelli Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pete Brewster, a rookie from Purdue, starts at right end for the Cleveland Browns Sunday at Philadelphia in place of the injured Dante Lavelli.

Brewster injured his knee in the season's opener against Los Angeles, but could run and cut well in Wednesday's practice. Ligaments in Lavelli's knee still show little sign of recovery.

Philadelphia's Eagles, National League champs when the Browns joined the circuit, have lost four in a row to Cleveland. They are tied now with the Browns for second place in the league's American Division with two wins and a loss.

School May Discontinue Football Following Death

PROCTORVILLE, O. (AP)—Principal Harry Wilgus of nearby Fairland High School said a decision will be made today whether to continue football at the school.

The question came up when James Carter, 18, died Sunday of injuries received in a game at Chesapeake last Friday. Wilgus said team members will "talk it over" with their parents.

A game scheduled this Friday against Rockhill has been cancelled.

Water

was then the desire of the Water Commission that this contractor be paid his estimate and they so requested the City Auditor to pay. As long as there is divided authority I do not feel that I can submit to you a report which I feel I could be responsible for.

"Under these circumstances, I can only report to you that unless authority is placed in my hands to control this project, it will be impossible for me to comply with your directive."

In his letter Mr. Barckhoff was referring to the Willis & Davidson Co. of Carmichaels, Pa. which holds the electrical work contract at the reservoir's filtration plant. The firm walked off the job Saturday when payment was refused it.

Mr. Barckhoff declared Wednesday that the Commission's ruling that the contractor be paid was a direct violation of the cooperation it had promised him at the meeting last Thursday.

The Water Commission in its statement today made no mention of the dispute over payment to the reservoir contractor.

However, the Pitt Construction Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., general contractor for the filtration plant, had notified the Commission after the electrical contractor walked off the job that unless the work was resumed so that heat could be provided before cold weather set in, damage might result to facilities in the filtration plant.

Denied By Commission

Concerning Mr. BeVier, Water Commission Chairman Floyd W. McKee stated that Mr. Barckhoff had called him last Friday and demanded that the water superintendent be removed from his job as part of the cooperation needed for the engineer to make the report that he promised Council.

Members of the Commission refused to comply with Mr. Barckhoff's request, Mr. McKee said. However, the commission chairman declared, Mr. Barckhoff was advised that all personnel connected with the water office, the Chester Engineers and the resident engineer had been informed that Mr. Barckhoff was to have free access to all accounts and records.

Mr. McKee said today the Commission was interviewing applicants for the water superintendent position and could see nothing to be gained by leaving the department without a head until a new man can be brought in.

Salem's tangled water situation is basically this:

The East Cold Run Reservoir proper, originally estimated to cost approximately $1,350,000, has already consumed that amount and Salem must raise another $200,000 to pay for contracts on which the city has committed itself.

Negotiations on the proposed sale of $200,000 in second mortgage water revenue bonds to complete the project have been held with the Toledo bonding firm, Ryan, Sutherland & Co.

Set for completion last September, the reservoir, unless more complications set in, may begin providing the city with water in a few weeks.

The present sources of water are Cold Run and East Cold Run, streams in the reservoir area. Ultimate plans are to acquire surplus Guilford Lake water, from private property below the lake, when funds permit.

Inside Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL

Just about 10,000 miles east of Korea's bloodsoaked White Horse Hill, at a point where the 38th Parallel brushes past Tennessee, this country is losing a quiet but no less vital battle on another ridge—Oak Ridge.

There, interunion jealousy, a dangerous luxury at this point in the Korean casualty lists, may soon slow down our production of atomic bombs and something the Atomic Energy Commission mysteriously refers to as "other fission weapons."

A senseless strike threatens the only plant in the nation now making the raw stuff for the atom bomb. That's in the huge building called K-25 in the Oak Ridge atomic city. Known as a gaseous diffusion center, it separates the fissionable (explosive) uranium from the non-fissionable. Without it we have no atomic weapons. Every minute of delay is costly.

PRODUCTION of this critical material can not be made up. What's lost is irretrievable. There is no such thing as overtime or putting on special shifts.

The fissionable uranium comes out of continuous process at a fixed rate of production. No one knows what would happen if the Atomic Energy Commission contractors were forced to silence the plant.

Uranium's not like steel. It's not a matter of banking furnaces. No one knows how long it would take to set up precautions to protect the civilian area around Oak Ridge—or later to re-energize a deadened K-25.

The strike threat comes from the atomic local of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers Union—and results from simple jealousy over wage scales won by the AFL's Atomic Trades Council in such plants as X-10 and X-12.

THE CIO atomic leaders are local chiefs. They want a higher norm of pay than the AFL's Atomic Council. That's all. And they want it although the nationally respected and venerated William H. Davis (and a panel) worked out the uniform wage rates for atomic production.

The AFL settled with Union Carbon and Carbide, which runs the X and K plants. But the CIO's local refused to go along. There are no ifs and buts. These are the facts. And on this flim-flam the hothead local, defying its national leaders such as Elwood Swisher, national Gas, Coke and Chemical president now in Oak Ridge trying to settle the dispute, threatens to slash our atomic production.

Not unimportant in this jealousy jag is the fact that the AFL Atomic Engergy Trades now have 26,570 members to the CIO's 5,000. (There are 2,500 guards in independent unions). Nor are the authorities overlooking the fact that the CIO's local leaders are competing with the AFL for the membership of the 7,500 workers who will turn out the all-powerful hydrogen thing at the Aiken, S. C., plant.

APPARENTLY some atomic workers develop a kind of strike virus which dulls their sense of responsibility. The utterly crucial K-25 plant is the only one spewing out explosive uranium because the second one of its kind we're trying to build at Paducah, Ky., has been delayed by 60 strikes.

The Atomic Energy Commission's official description of Paducah is that "We're in a mess.' And these strikes are led by eager-beaver AFL regional leaders, all trying to prove they can get an extra buck, or a slightly shorter shift, or slap down some foreman.

Result: The U. S. has no surplus fissionable uranium plant capacity. If K-25 goes down, we'll have no new bombs after a while.

In all this, however, the national CIO and AFL leaders have shown responsibility. The officers of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical (and Atomic) Workers have set up a special "strike commission" to hamper the hot heads.

IN AREAS other than Paducah, the AFL transportation workers have cooperated closely with the Pentagon—on land and sea. Dan Tobin's and Dave Beck's teamsters "have repeatedly demonstrated that their strikes will not be permitted to interfere with the transportation of defense materials,' a Dept. of Defense spokesman says I can say for him.

Harry Lundeberg's AFL sailors will furnish a crew for any vessel caught in any strike, if it carries military cargo in the Pacific. The International Assn. of Machinists sent 13,000 men back to work whipping out fighter planes at Douglas in Los Angeles when President Truman appealed to them.

What makes the local atomic workers so buck hungry and irascible that they want to smear all their labor brethren as irresponsible—and hurt the atomic program?

Mt. Union Paper Backs Ike, Nixon

ALLIANCE—The Mount Union College student newspaper, the Dynamo, came out editorially today for the election of the Republican team of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on Nov. 4, saying the continuation of the Democratic administration is a tragedy this country must avoid.

In a precedent setting move, the Dynamo editorial said: "Giving the Democrats another four-year lease on the White House would not only to be a tremendous blunder, but a fatal blow to this country."

The editorial went on: "The Government (would become) more powerful, usurping the right of the people at its every whim." It said Eisenhower and Nixon "bring before the country youth, vigor and new faces, something now very badly needed. Their approach to the campaign," the blast continued, "has been a realisitc one of honesty and integrity and they have met the issues squarely."

It concluded: "Adlaie E. Stevenson would bring this country nothing but more 'New Dealism,' 'Fair Dealism' and extreme leftism' with a high-sounding Harvard accent. 'Ike' and Dick are the answer. . . . They're for You!"

Dynamo policy is set by an Association of senior staff members who, according to President Jim Casper, agreed on the precedent setting endorsement.

The Dynamo Editor Dick Smith, Canton senior, said the campus sentiment was at least three to one among the students for the popular Republican team.

Cinnamon Twist Bread Has Homemade Taste

Hers's a new twist on an old story. Every homemaker whose family asks for and appreciates homemade bread will welcome this recipe. For a touch of the gourmet's license with the staff of life, make cinnamon twist your next bread baking recipe—the spicy fragrance of these loaves has real taste tempting appeal.

- 2 pkgs. or 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1-3 cup lukewarm water
- 1½ cups scalded milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1-3 cup shortening
- 5½ to 6 cups sifted enriched flour
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup dried currants
- 1½ cups rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
- 2 tablespoons cinnamon
- 1-3 cup sugar

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Beat in half of flour and beaten eggs. Stir in softened yeast, currants, and rolled oats. Add enough flour to make a stiff dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; cover and let rise until almost double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Divide dough into 2 parts, round each part into a ball; place in greased bowl; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll each part to form a rectangle about 8 inches by 15 inches. Sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar mixture, made by mixing 2 tablespoons cinnamon and 1-3 cup sugar.

Roll each rectangle to form a loaf; place with seam underneath in lightly greased bread pan (1 lb. size). Brush lightly with melted shortening, cover and let rise until almost double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Bake in hot oven (400F.) for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 F. and continue baking 35 to 45 minutes, until bread is brown and begins to leave sides of pan.

VEGETABLE RELISH

Here's a vegetable relish to go with hamburgers on toasted buns. Mix finely shredded cabbage and onion together; add chopped onion, green pepper, and sweet pickles. Season with salt, pepper, sugar and vinegar.

CREAM SAUCE

Any leftover cooked potatoes and carrots in the refrigerator? Mix them together in a cream sauce and add a little finely diced raw celery; season well with salt and freshly-ground pepper and serve piping hot with meat or fish.

Want to prepare a quick Spanish Sauce for a lunch or supper omelet? Cook a little onion and green pepper in bacon drippings and mix with a can of condensed soup; heat until piping hot.

Add Bacon For Flavor

Stuffed onions, tomatoes, eggplant, zucchini, green peppers all make wonderful fall dishes. Hollow them out, steam or bake them until tender, then fill with savory stuffing. They make a complete main dish for luncheon this way or a very substantial addition to dinner.

Here's a quick stuffing made with the new packaged, pre-cooked rice:

Cheese Rice

- 1 1-3 cups packaged, pre-cooked rice
- 1½ cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¾ cup grated cheddar cheese or 1 cup grated processed American cheese
- 8 strips of bacon, cooked until crisp

Combine rice, water, salt and pepper in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir.)

Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes. Place ½ cup of the cheese on top of the rice. (Do not mix.) Cover again and let stand 5 minutes more. Mix lightly with a fork. Stuff into vegetable and sprinkle with crumbled cooked bacon and the rest of the cheese.

One of our favorite vegetable dishes is this: First, cut tomatoes in half—sprinkle a little, very little brown sugar on top of each half. Then chop green pepper, onion and parsley and mix. Place a mound of this mixture on top of the brown sugar.

Over the vegetable mixture lay a small strip of fat bacon Place the tomatoes in a shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven about 15 minutes. Succulent and different with fish or steak.

TURKEY GIBLETS

Cook turkey giblets before adding them to the gravy or some other dish. Wash the giblets and put them in a saucepan. Cover them with water and add a teaspoon of salt, a few peppercorns, a whole clove, a bayleaf, a slice of onion, a branch of celery, and a small carrot. Simmer for several hours or until tender. Use the giblet broth in soup or gravy.

To save time in cooking, read over the recipe you plan to use t fore begining; then assemble all the equipment and supplies you will need.

Handy tip for brides: A cake is done when, if touched lightly with the finger, it springs back; when it is evenly raised and evenly browned; when it shrinks away from the sides of the pan; and when a toothpick inserted in the center, comes out clean.

Unusual! Lima Beans And Pears

Lima beans cooked with pears, or squash with pineapple are ideas from "Everyone Can Cook," compiled by Luella R. Maslon of Minneapolis, Minn. It's a book we think is packed with unusually good recipes. Proceeds from the book's sale go to the new Mount Siani Hospital in Minneapolis.

Lima Beans and Pears

3 cups lima beans (large)
3 tablespoons brown sugar
4 tablespoons butter
1 large can pears
Cinnamon

Soak beans overnight. Add salt to water and cook until done, but not mushy. Drain. Add sugar and butter. Butter casserole well and put in beans.

Place pears on top of beans, close together with centers up. Fill hollows of pears with more butter and brown sugar and sprinkle well with cinnamon. Add juice from can, and baste very often.

Bake in low over (300 degrees F.) for 2 hours or longer. Do not cover, but if juice dries out, add more pear juice.

Baked Squash

3 cups squash (fresh or frozen)
1 cup crushed pineapple
¼ cup melted butter
Dash nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Buttered crumbs

Cook squash. Cut in small pieces. Mix all ingredients, except the crumbs. Put in buttered baking dish, sprinkle with crumbs, and bake in 350 degrees F. oven for 30 minutes.

Potato Pudding

Grind 6 large potatoes and 2 medium onions. Add salt and pepper. Beat 3 eggs, 1 cup sweet cream, 4 tablespoons melted butter and 1 tablespoon baking powder. Mix with potatoes and bake in casserole in 325 degrees F. oven for 2 hours.

Here's Prune Treats For Dessert

Here's a wonderful new steamed pudding from California. It combines chocolate and prunes, and served warm with hard sauce is a flavorful delight.

Steamed Chocolate Prune Pudding

1 cup cooked prunes
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1-3 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cut prunes from pits into small pieces. Melt chocolate over hot water and cool slightly. Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add egg and beat well. Blend in melted chocolate. Sifted together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to chocolate mixture alternately with milk.

Blend in vanilla and prunes. Grease 2-quart mold and sprinkle with sugar. Turn batter into mold and cover closely. Place mold on rack in deep kettle of boiling water, so that water comes half way up sides of mold. Cover kettle and steam 2 hours. Allow to stand 10 minutes.

Invert mold over serving plate to remove pudding. Serve warm with hard sauce.

Note—The pudding may be reheated by steaming over hot water.

For something delicious in the pie line, try this recipe:

Luscious Prune Pie

24 marshmallows
½ cup milk
1 cup cooked prunes
2 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
2/3 cup whipping cream
1 baked 9-inch graham cracker crumb shell

Combine marshmallows and milk and heat slowly until marshmallows are melted, stirring frequently. Cool until slightly thickened.

Meanwhile, cut prunes from pits into small pieces. Shave chocolate finely with a sharp knife. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream, prunes and chocolate into thickened marshmallow mixture, and turn into cooled crumb shell. Chill several hours before serving.

ORANGE-DATE NUT BREAD

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspon baking powder
½ teaspon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons coarsely grated orange rind
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup orange juice
½ cup boiling water
1 egg
1 cup finely cut pitted dates
½ cup chopped walnut or pecan meats

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar. In a mixing bowl stir together orange rind, butter, orange juice and boiling water until butter is melted. Beat egg until thick and pale colored; add to orange juice mixture with dates. Stir in flour mixture and nutmeats only until dry ingredients are moistened; do not beat smooth. Turn into greased loaf pan (about 9 x 5 x 2¾ inches). Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center of loaf comes out clean. Invert on rack to cool thoroughly. Store overnight in tightly covered container before slicing.

DISH-SAVER MEAL

When you are tired of washing dishes, serve your family a finger-food supper. Chicken Turnovers can be your main course. Your salad can be cheese-stuffed celery wedges, carrot strips, pickles and olives. For dessert serve a big bowl of fresh fruit (pears, plums, and grapes) and some brownies.

BACON

Crisp slices of bacon taste good with a casserole of scalloped potatoes or one of Spanish rice. Bacon is also an addition to such luncheon dishes as creamed eggs and mushrooms or corn pudding.

Here's Different Sunday Menu

How about something very different for the big Sunday dinner? . . . duckling with seedless grapes. Sounds pretty Continental, but it's easy to do.

Duckling with Green Grapes

5 to 6 pound Long Island duckling, dressed weight
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoon fat
¾ cup muscatel wine or purple grape juice
2 tablespoon currant jelly
1½ tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup halved seedless grapes

Score duck skin from neck to vent along center of breast with sharp knife. Peel back layer of skin and fat, running edge of knife underneath to help cut connective tissues. Cut skinned duckling in serving-sized pieces.

Place pieces of duckling in a bowl. Sprinkle with kitchen bouquet, salt and nutmeg, then mix lightly to coat pieces evenly. Melt fat in frying pan or Dutch oven. Add pieces of duckling and brown lightly over moderate heat. Add wine or grape juice and currant jelly. Cover and bring to a boil.

Cook slowly until duckling is barely tender, about 45 minutes. Blend together and add the cornstarch and cold water, stirring until sauce thickens. Add grapes and let heat thoroughly. Serve duckling over hot rice.

For Sunday supper with a little extra fillip, try this:

Cream of Mushroom Soup

One 11-ounce can condensed cream of celery soup
3 ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
1 cup light cream.

Place contents of can of soup, broth from can of mushrooms, marjoram and cream in a small saucepan. Beat until well-mixed with a rotary egg beater. Finely chop the drained mushrooms, then add to the soup mixture. Heat thoroughly, stirring frequently. Serve immediately.

PEACH SALAD

6 canned cling peach halves
1 one-third cups coarsely grated carrots
Two-thirds diced grapefruit sections
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grapefruit juice
Salad greens

Drain peaches well. Mix carrot and grapefruit together lightly. Blend mayonnaise, salt and grapefruit juice; toss lightly with carrot and grapefruit. Place a peach half, cavity sideup, on each of 6 individual salad plates and top with carrot misture; garnish with greens. Makes 6 servings.

GOLD CARAT LOAF

1½ pounds ground beef
1 cup uncooked rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned)
1 cup grated raw carrots
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 eggs (beaten)
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Pack into loaf pan (1-pound size). Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 1 hour. Let stand 5 minutes before slicing. Makes 8 servings.

Gingerbread Made Old-Fashioned Way

Do you remember that hunk of warm gingerbread and glass of cool milk when you came home from school? It was waiting for you on the kitchen table and you thought as you gobbled it, "Gee, my Ma can sure bake!"

How about a little gingerbread baking of your own, now, for your own school-age kids?

Old-Fashioned Gingerbread

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 cup unsulphured molasses
2 eggs
1 cup hot water

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda, ginger, cinnamon and cloves. Cream together shortening and sugar; blend in molasses, Stir in ½ cup flour mixture; beat in eggs. Add hot water alternately with remaining flour mixture.

Turn into a well-greased, lightly floured 9-inch square pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until done.

Here's a well-flavored quickie that uses leftovers:

Use freshly cooked or cooked leftover frankfurters. Slice them and mix with a rich prepared mustard.

In a greased casserole, place a thick layer of souerkrout. Place the sliced franks on top. Then cover with leftover mashed potatoes. Dot with bacon drippings, butter or margarine. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until potato crust is brown.

FRUIT SALAD MOLDS

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1¼ cups hot water
½ cup syrup from canned fruit cocktail
¾ cup drained thawed frozen strawberries
1 small banana
1½ cups drained canned fruit cocktail
Salad greens
Whipped cream dressing

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Blend in syrup from fruit cocktail. Cool to consistency of unbeaten egg white. Stir in raspberries, diced banana and well-drained fruit cocktail. Turn into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with whipped cream dressing. Makes 6 to 8 individual molds.

Hardware Show

By SAUL PET
(For HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (AP)—All in all, I had a rather jazzy time at the National Hardware Show.

I met some lovely young blondes who know even less about hardware than I do but more about hardware men. I talked with three talented mynah birds who tried to sell me electrical appliances. I also watched a gripping puppet show and picked up a free sample of "Scru-Tite screw anchors."

All was relatively quiet in putty knives, plungers and peat moss but at the next booth a man said I'd be surprised what they're doing these days with doweling jigs, ratchet tap wrenches, feeler gages, trammel points and repairmen's reamers.

Early in my tour I discovered there is such a thing as left-handed cutting shears. Then I weighed myself on a piece of aluminum screening to prove how strong it was and that proved rather dismal. My weight, I mean, not the screening.

Crossing to another booth, I talked with an executive - type person who whispered confidentially that the trend is definitely swinging away from plastic back to wooden toilet seats.

Moving from power drills with an attachment for mixing whisky sours or cake batter, I met a well-informed blonde coming down the aisle.

She wore a string of pearls, pearl earrings, black turtle - neck sweater, black shorts, high-heeled shoes and across her chest a sash indicating her heart belonged to "Linzer paint brushes."

Rather bored with the question, the young lady said she wasn't supposed to know anything about brushes. She was just supposed to walk around. Most hardware men, she admitted, are nice but hardware wits don't flee from the obvious. Item: "You won't give me a fast brush, will you?' Item: "Can we paint the town red?'

Over the roar of power saws, drills and hammers, a strange whistling drew me to the Westinghouse booth featuring three talking mynah birds named "Teevee' and "Acee' and "Deecee'.

"Acee' and "Deecee' occupied a duplex cage with built-in microphones. A lady led them through some enchanting dialogue in which they said they were fine, darling, meowed like cats, whistled like a man wolf and said goodbye in a male and then, an octave higher, in a female voice.

Pulling a curtain off a third cage, the lady asked "Teevee' about Westinghouse and the bird said, "I'm fine, darling, how are you?' The lady said she was fine and how about Westinghouse and the bird said, after a tense moment, "You can be sure if it's Westinghouse."

"It took me a whole year to teach him the full commercial,' the lady said.

Another attractive blonde appeared in the aisle, wearing a 'Weather-All' padded suit from her neck to her soles. "This will keep you warm in 40 degrees below zero" she explained. "They're using them in ice cream factories."

Among the lawn mowers, seeders and fertilizers, another model showed up in a strapless ballerina costume. She wore an "Apex garden hose' sash and gave away lollypops.

On my way out, I stumbled over a small sled with wheels on the runners. This is for underprivileged kids of Beverly Hills and Palm Beach who may be denied snow but not the thrill of belly-whoppers.

Brazil Rescuers Move Out 14 Crash Victims

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — Rescue workers today were moving out the bodies of 14 persons killed in the flaming crash of a Brazilian airliner. Four survivors were being treated in hospitals.
